

The Regional Australia Mental Health Research and Training Institute

Building place-based research capacity to improve mental health in regional, rural, and remote Australia through the Regional Universities Network (RUN)

13th May, 2022

Dear Dr Dywili,

EOI Invitation for Early and Mid-Career Researchers

Thank you for submitting an Expression of Interest to the Regional Australia Mental Health Research and Training Institute (RAMHeaRT).

Through the process outlined in the EOI guidelines, the RAMHeaRT Chief Investigators have shortlisted for each role based on both the candidate's record of accomplishment (at the university level) and the needs of the Institute overall. These nominations have been approved by the Program Leadership Group. This group have appreciated the opportunity to consider your EOI.

Regretfully, your EOI did not proceed to the next stage on this occasion. We received a number of high-quality submissions for a finite amount of funding. Please contact your University Lead (cc'd above) if you would like individual feedback. Given the impressive nature of the EOI and your work in this field to date, we hope that you continue to engage with RAMHeaRT. There will be ongoing opportunities for you to be involved.

We have added your contact details to our mailing list to ensure you are kept up to date with the progress and opportunities provided by the Institute.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Yours sincerely,

Liz Egan on behalf of the Regional Australia Mental Health Research and Training Institute Review Panel.

Elizabeth Egan
Project Manager

Regional Australia Mental Health Research and Training Institute
Faculty of Medicine and Health

University of New England
Armidale NSW 2351 Australia
Phone 61 2 6773 1868
Mobile 0404 418573
Email eegan@une.edu.au

www.une.edu.au

University of New England CRICOS Provider Number 00003G