Dear Elyce

2022 Australian Council of Deans of Health Science Symposium
Graduate attributes in an Age of Uncertainty

I write on behalf of the Australian Council of Deans of Health Science (ACDHS) to thank you for presenting at the 2022 ACDHS Symposium. I was particularly grateful to have you present in person – it is not an insignificant undertaking travelling from regional NSW!

Your readiness to share your experience and expertise on delivering clinical education in remote locations was insightful and played a vital part in making our event a success.

If there was a key takeaway, I think it was your reference to “placements are not just a passage of time”; and, the commitment and passion you have for your students and your community .

Again, thank you Elyce, and I hope, being a part of our event was a positive experience for you as well.

Best wishes

Yours sincerely
